

7B | Conduct*Revised: 2/13/19Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to ensure the Library's expectations for the behavior and overall conduct of all who visit or make use of the Library's spaces, collections, services and programs (whether in person or remotely) are clearly communicated.

Standard of Conduct

The Library is a shared, public space. The Library's collections and services are for the greater Roselle community to make use of for educational, entertainment, personal and professional purposes. All Library users, visitors, personnel, and contractors are expected to: follow all applicable federal and state laws, and local ordinances; follow all Library policies and procedures; maintain orderly conduct and refrain from disrupting peaceful Library operations; and ensure their actions are not disrupting others' use and enjoyment of the Library.

In the case of any Library user or visitor with intellectual or physical disabilities or circumstances which would otherwise make adhering to the Library's standard of conduct difficult or impossible, those users should be accompanied or directly supervised by a qualified caregiver while using the Library.

For a more detailed list of expected behavior, please refer to the Code of Conduct, a document maintained by Library management and made available in print and electronic format at all times.

Abuses of Conduct

In the event any Library user, visitor, personnel, or contractor does not adhere to this policy or the Code of Conduct, a Library staff member shall request the behavior cease immediately and cite this policy. Multiple infractions may be met with a request to leave the Library until the next day. If a situation warrants, Library staff may call local law enforcement for assistance. In severe or extreme cases, the Executive Director may revoke Library use for a specified amount of time, within reason.
